, April 22, 2023 is Earth Day and events will be held worldwide to demonstrate support for environmental protection and addressing issues of climate change;

, schools have the potential to make positive, tangible environmental change in the world while teaching students to be stewards of their communities, the Earth, and its resources;

, schools expend considerable environmental and financial resources on energy, water, refuse services, and custodial and office supplies, and have a considerable opportunity through their purchasing power to improve both the environment and their financial bottom line;

, the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change's (IPCC), the world's most authoritative scientific body on climate change, stated in its 2023 report that the world must rapidly shift away from burning fossil fuels — the number one cause of the climate crisis.

, California Executive Order B-55-18 outlines the State's goal of carbon neutrality by no later than 2045 and to achieve and maintain net negative emissions thereafter;

, CAL FIRE currently has a grant opportunity to create green schoolyards to protect the health, well-being, and educational opportunity of children most vulnerable to increasing temperatures and extreme heat across California.

, climate change is a social justice and equity issue. While climate change impacts all people and disproportionately impacts all young people and future generations, it disproportionately affects people of color and people in poverty, thereby exacerbating existing inequities and limiting equality of opportunity;

ffects of climate change through the intentional design and replacement of facilities and components;

, the Sacramento City Unified School District works to promote programs and partnerships the District in an effort to educate students and the community, protect the environment and natural habitat around us, and become more environmentally resilient for the changing environment;

, the global impact, urgency, and magnitude of the challenge of addressing climate change calls for leadership in all sectors of society, all institutions and among all elected leaders; and

, the Sacramento City Unified School District Board of Education does hereby recognize April 22, 2023, as Earth Day and supports the important work and services provided by Sacramento City Unified School District staff, schools, and partners.

, in recognition that the Sacramento City Unified School District can be part of the climate change solution by reducing emissions and promoting environmental stewardship, the Board
